OPERATIONS

The activation of this new maintenance organization was based on the decision to restructure the maintenance squadron to more closely resemble its active duty counterpart. The first 165 LSF Commander is Major Mark A. Trammell. Under his command, the Logistics Support Flight is responsible to the Logistics Group Commander for aircraft maintenance staff functions required for the efficient operation of the Logistics Group. Logistics Support Flight staff functions are composed of the Maintenance Operations Center; Plans & Scheduling, Maintenance Programs & Mobility; Budget, The Logistics Support Flight has built an exceptional team. They greatly contributed to the rating of Excellent achieved during the first C-130 Operational Readiness Inspection by the 8th Air Force Inspection Team. This has also been vividly evident in numerous unit deployments to locations around the world and Operational Readiness Exercises, where they are forced to work under a wide range of additional duties.
