The 201st Combat Communications Flight relocated to Wailuku, Maui as part of a master plan to decentralize the 201 Combat Communications Group. The flight shared facilities for six years with the Hawaii Army National Guard-Wailuku Armory, Kahului Armory, and HARNG motor pool at Paukualo developing good partnerships. The flight conducted its first unit training assembly (LTA) at the Wailuku Armory with 30 personnel attending. Maj. David Rodrigues was in command, with Cpt Stephen Berg as the operations officer, Capt. Lance Okihara as the operations staff officer, and Lt. Norbert Luke as the maintenance officer.

November 1977, two additional units of the 201st CCGp were relocated. The 201st Combat Communications Flight was moved to Maui under the command of Major David Rodrigues, and the 201st Air Traffic Control Flight moved to Kealahou, Hawaii where they shared facilities with the Army National Guard.

June 1982, the 154 CEF deployed to Cheyenne ANGB, Wyoming, completing $60,000 of construction projects. On Sept. 23, 1982, Maj. Gen. Arthur Ishimoto, along with other dignitaries, participated in the ground breaking ceremony for the new 201st CCFT facilities. On Feb. 11, 1984, dedication and grand opening ceremonies culminated with a grand luau.
