On a disc Azure, gridlined throughout in the manner of a globe tilted to dexter Argent, a torch Or, flame Gules, suppressed by a flight symbol and contrail issuant from dexter and soaring bend sinisterwise of the second, the torch, flight symbol, and contrail detailed Sable, all within a narrow border of the last. Attached above the disc, a Yellow scroll edged with a narrow Black border and inscribed "VIGILANT MUNERIS" in Black letters. Attached below the disc, a Yellow scroll edged with a narrow Black border and inscribed "28 FORCE SUPPORT SQUADRON" in Black letters. SIGNIFICANCE: Ultramarine blue and Air Force yellow are the Air Force colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theater of Air Force operations. Yellow refers to the sun and the excellence required of Air Force personnel. The globe signifies the mission that encompasses the troops and families from all over the world and the support provided to them. The torch symbolizes how the unit keeps the home fires burning: caring for all; providing morale, recreation, welfare, administrative support; and sense of community. The flight symbol and contrail represent the continuous transfer of information that keeps the base running while at home or away. The flight symbol also represents that the unit keeps the base and the Air Force "Above All." (Approved, 2 Dec 2008)
