MOTTO

OPERATIONS

Replacement training, 1941. Air defense of New Caledonia, Mar–Oct 1942. Combat in South and Southwest Pacific, 24 Aug 1942–Jul 1944; combat in Southwest and Western Pacific, 15 Aug 1944–8 Aug 1945.

Combat in Korea, 2 Aug 1950–27 Jul 1953.

The Red Scarf Squadron's welcome to Korea during the hectic "July Days" of last year sound like overdrawn fiction from a best seller. Enemy artillery, crowded tents, eighteen-hour work day, men loading and servicing aircraft (regardless of MOS), and all the colorful staging that modern warfare is supposed to produce.... and does.

Originally commanded by Major Lou Sebille, the first Air Force man to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor in the Korean conflict, the Red Scarf Squadron has continued its high operational efficiency under the leadership of Major "Moon" Mullins, Lt. Col Bill May, Lt. Col. "Tank" Lawrence, and Major "Shorty" Colson.

These men have been typical of the aggressive commander's characteristic of the 18th. We have a more than few feats that we point to with obvious pride.... first to operate from North Korea, first Squadron to win the Lou Sebille Bombing Award two months in succession, and many others.

Despite the mud, dust, snow, rain, and ice we had our share of chuckles. Remember How Lt Lavin practically had a complex, because his ample bulk seem to encourage guerilla sharpshooters; Captain "Big Dog" Smith with his in-low-gear laugh; Col. Lawrence with his campaign-hat-plus-cigaret-holder program for becoming a four-star general overnight.

It isn't listed as TO/E equipment, but a good stock level of humor and laughs was our most valuable asset. Sticky valves, weird mag-drops, hydraulic mysteries, and all the other gremlins that haunt a tactical unit were less nettling because we could laugh it off. All in all, we feel that our spirit and our accomplishments are summarized in this simply stanza: Be it fighters over Kimpo, Or to strafe Korea's shore; In answer to the call we go To hit the reds once more.

Combat in Southeast Asia, 18 Feb–26 Apr 1965 and 16 Aug–23 Oct 1965.

"In January 1965, seven pilots of the 67 TFS deployed to Da Nang Air Base, South Vietnam, to become one of the first tactical outfits to support the Vietnamese war. On April 3 and 4, 1965, Lt.Colonel Robinson Risner, Commander of the 67 led two successive operations against vitally important and heavily defended targets in North Vietnam. Performing in the role of air coordinator, Colonel Risner arrived in the area before the main strike force, evaluated the effectiveness of each strike, re-directed subsequent strikes, and provided flak suppression against defenses that would hinder delivery aircraft in the performance of their mission. On this mission, he sustained a direct hit but was able to land at a friendly airfield. On April 4th, he led an attacking force of fighter aircraft on a restrike against the same target. For his extraordinary heroism, superb airmanship and aggressiveness, Colonel Risner was awarded the Air Force Cross. Lieutenant Colonel Robinson Risner was shot down on 16 September 1965, while on a mission against the Thanh Hoa Railroad and Highway Bridge (aka "The Dragon's Jaw"). When he landed in his parachute, Colonel Risner injured his knee and was captured by the North Vietnamese. During his stay as a guest of the Hanoi Hilton, Colonel Risner spent four and a half years in solitary confinement.

Provided air defense in Far East region, 1968.

Some 200 airmen from 18th Wing at Kadena AB, Japan, accompanied 12 F-15 Eagles on a two-week aviation training relocation deployment to Nyutabaru AB, Japan, last weekend, where they will train jointly with Japan Air Self Defense Force units on the island of Kyushu. The 12 F-15s, from Kadena's 67 Fighter Squadron, arrived at Nyutabaru on Oct. 18 and will fly and train alongside JASDF F-4Js of the 5th Wing to improve tactical interoperability and readiness for the next two weeks. In addition to training with the 5th Wing at Nyutabaru, USAF Capt. William Sullivan, 67 FS ATR project officer, said Kadena's 623rd Air Control Flight also will train for ground control intercepts at nearby Tsuiki AB, Japan—home of JASDF's 8th Wing. The ATR gives Kadena airmen the chance to practice deployed operations, while working with elements of both the 5th and 8th Wings. Sullivan said Kadena pilots and USAF fighters have flown a lot with JASDF units stationed at Naha, on Okinawa, but have not flown with pilots from Nyutabaru in five years. 2014
